

ABBA FATHER'S HOUSE (AFH) is a children's home in Jinja, Uganda's second largest town. It is a Christian charity formed to create a home for disadvantaged children, especially orphans who have lost their parents as a result of AIDS. Living at AFH gives children hope and they learn to develop a positive attitude to the future, by putting their trust in Jesus Christ. Our objective is to give the children spiritual and physical care; to love them, and to teach them the love of God.

The home is also developing as a center where widows can receive assistance through training in practical skills, such as tailoring, in order to earn a living. Loving them in this way is a small demonstration of God's love for them.

AFH stands on a 2- acre plot. Following the surveying and fencing of the land, the charity was registered in 2005. Our vision manifested into reality in March 2006. This was no mean accomplishment, with the work being managed from the U.K. But, by faith, Juliet Najja, the vision holder and founder, together with her charity partners, was able to finance and manage the process.

To date (September 2007) we have 14 children living at AFH. Sponsors are being sought for another 16 children.

An important aspect of the work of AFH is the creation of mini business projects. This provides skills training for the children and widows, reducing their emotional dependence on charity, as well as providing an essential income. So far we have a chicken and turkey rearing business, and a mushroom growing business. The children also grow a range of vegetables, and saplings, which we plan to sell on. The latest project to start is a bread bakery, for which building has started! Fortunately the plot is large enough for all these projects!

We also have space for Phases 2 and 3, whereby we plan to build two more accommodation wings, eventually housing up to at least 60 more children and staff. We are committed to raising funds for these building projects. Ultimately we shall be able to provide a home, feed, clothe, educate and provide the necessities for children, at the same time as giving them hope for the future, and to learn to believe and trust God for their needs.
